SARAH STUHLDREHER

Owner / Partner

Coming from a family of entrepreneurs, and with a background in business development, the idea of managing and growing our business was already part of my DNA. Work quality, excellent service, and fast turnaround time are what built this Organization, and its reputation among Fortune 500 companies across America. Stepping into the role of the Business Partner was where the real challenge began. Being solely responsible for other people's livelihoods based on the success or failure of my decisions changed my perspective. I quickly learned that being a female leader comes with a unique set of hurdles. Sure, there are financial pressures, operational challenges, and the long hours every entrepreneur faces, but carrying on the family business meant a great deal to me. My partner and I are committed to tackling problems and finding cost-effective solutions whether for small businesses or multi-national corporations. As a minority female-owned business we continue the legacy of impeccable quality, service to our clients, and converting your hurdles into opportunities for your business. In this new post-pandemic era everyone needs support, and we have found that feasibility studies and free pilot programs help our clients find their weak points and plug issues with customized solutions. I grew up around those with an entrepreneurial spirit and I value the focus it takes to build your business. Overcoming roadblocks, speeding up output, and reaching your audience are how we *help you do what you do best.

"100% top notch..."

"Qtat has the best customer service, hands down. The turnaround time is super fast (always the next day) and mistakes are never found. I have never had to wait for a response when I had a question or continuously follow up because someone dropped the ball. I highly recommend Legal Assist and the services they have to offer. You won't find a better company to work with, that's a fact. 100% top notch! "

Samantha Debardelaben

"Outstanding work..."

"Our law firm has worked with Vinay and Qtat on various projects over the last 7 years and they have always provided us with outstanding work completed in a timely manner. Every time we need their help on a large project, they're on it almost immediately with little guidance ever needed. The services they provide, particularly in data entry, are a great asset for any firm needing large amounts of data processed quickly. Our firm highly recommends Legal Assist and we look forward to continuing partnering with them on future projects."
